The Rt. Rev. Dushantha Rodrigo
Bishop of Colombo

A year in the life of a school is an event filled year if all departments work in conjunction with each other.

In the schools in Ratmalana and Kaithady, every day is an event filled day and the staff and well-wishers play that important role in helping every child to cope with the day and develop themselves to keep up with the rest of the world.

Children in these schools constantly teach us that what they do not need is sympathy and all that they need is respect and acceptance in the same way every other child is given an opportunity to prove himself or herself.

A day should not pass with us remembering Mary Chapman who set up these schools and taught all of us an important lesson that we should always be looking at people and situations that other people are least interested in.

The year under review is a year where there was a change at the Deaf and Blind Schools. Ms. Rosana Kulendran who gave leadership to both schools as the Principal stepped down from her post to take on the Principalship of Uduvil Girls' College. We wish her the very best.

Ms. Amara Somasundaram succeeded Ms. Vasuki Rajasingham as Principal of Nuffield School Kaithady. Her task is a challenging one and we pray for God's wisdom and guidance.

To the many volunteers who have played a silent role but have been an integral part of the lives of these schools, a very big thank you

To the donors and well-wishers for making a difference in the life of the children with whom a good deal would not be possible, blessings from the God who sustains all things.

To the Board who keeps a keen oversight of things and gives time and contributes by way of financial support and helps administer the schools, our grateful thanks.

To the three Principals and staff, big bouquets of the most fragrant flowers for a job well done.

May this be a year to learn from and to make the coming year a meaningful and creative one.

Blessings to one and all.

Message from the Chairman, Executive Committee Ceylon School for the Deaf and Blind

Mr. Ray Abeywardena
Chairman,
Executive Committee

On behalf of the Executive Committee of the Ceylon Schools for the Deaf & Blind (CSDB), it gives me great pleasure to write this message to the annual report of the Ceylon Schools for the Deaf & Blind for the year ended 31.12.2022.

It was a great relief to all to see the country limping back to daily life after nearly two years of Covid 19, that caused mayhem across the world with death & disruptions across the globe. However, in Sri Lanka, the daily life turned in to daily strife as the economy collapsed & with it the lack of essentials from medicine to food to fuel & other shortages became the norm. The cost of living rose to hitherto unseen heights & inflation soared. This was the phenomena from the 2nd to the 3rd quarters of the year, & thankfully towards the 4th quarter of the year & thereafter, the situation began improving, albeit a long distance from where we were as a nation at the beginning of the year.

In such a challenging scenario we were back to a near normal school Calander & the respective Principals & staff put in an extra effort to catch up for lost time.

In such circumstances, the challenges of raising funds to ensure the smooth running of the schools, which is an uphill task anyway, was made even more difficult, as the soaring cost of living drastically reduced the disposable income of the majority of the people who found it very difficult to support charitable institutions such as ours with the same vigor that they had in the past. Whilst we had to dip into our meagre reserves to ensure the uninterrupted supply of food, medicine and other essentials, the Resource Development Committee and the Project Coordinator faced an uphill task in attracting donors. I thank them for their commitment.

Whilst around 30% of our expenses are borne by the Government, sourcing the balance on an annual basis is a challenging task more so as the costs of goods keeps rising steeply.

Apart from the recurrent expenses we need to run the schools, substantial amounts of money are spent to maintain the buildings in Ratmalana and Kaithady, as some of them are old and deteriorating and we are mindful of the risks of having persons occupying such buildings. The costs of such maintenance too are also borne by our generous donors.

I am extremely grateful to all donors who despite the challenges stated above, continued to support the schools by donating a meal in memory of a loved one, who supported us financially in ensuring that the children's well being were taken care of, especially where health care is concerned and for assisting us in maintaining the buildings which need constant maintenance to ensure safety.

I wish to place on record my grateful thanks to the respective Principals and to the staff for the selfless service they render year in and year out, to ensure that our children are well taken care of.

We welcomed Ms. Amara Somasundaram as our new Principal at Kaithady, Jaffna & we wish her all the best as she takes the helm to lead the school to greater heights.

We bid adieu to Ms. Rosana Kulendran who served as the Principal for the School for the Deaf & Competent Authority of the School for the Blind respectively. We thank her for her leadership through out the year & for ensuring the smooth functioning of both schools under her purview. We wish her success in all her future endeavors.

I wish to place on record, our gratitude to Dialog Axiata PLC, who generously fund the Ratmalana Audiology Centre (RAC) & the Speech Therapy Center in Kaithady, Jaffna, & ensures the smooth functioning of both entities.

I thank His Lordship the Bishop for making himself available at any time, whenever I reach out to him to seek his guidance and valuable advice as Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and I thank the Members of the Board of Trustees and the Executive Committee respectively for their time, commitment and valuable contribution to manage the schools.

Report of The Board of Trustees of the Ceylon School for the Deaf & Blind 2022

A Legacy of Empowerment

The Board of Trustees of the Ceylon School for the Deaf & Blind oversees three remarkable institutions that have been instrumental in providing education, support, and empowerment to the visually and hearing impaired community. Each school has a unique history and purpose, working together to create a positive impact.

The School for the Deaf and Blind in Ratmalana

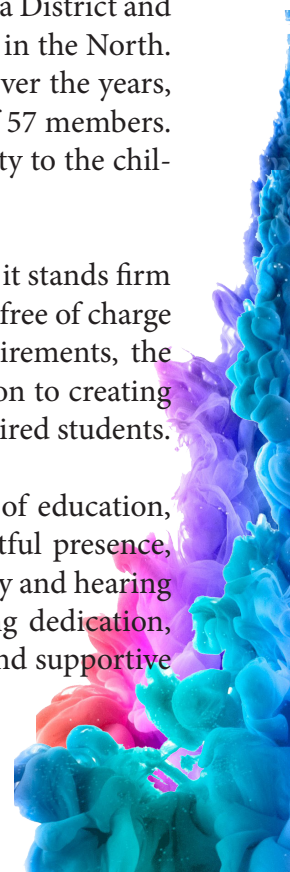

Established in 1912 by Miss. Mary Chapman of the Church of England Zenana Missionary Society, the School for the Deaf and Blind in Ratmalana emerged at a time when the hearing and sight-impaired individuals were often overlooked by society. Miss Chapman's visionary commitment led to the establishment of the school with only three teachers initially. Today, the school has expanded its scope to provide comprehensive education, vocational training, sports, and hostel facilities to around 225 students. Approximately 80% of these students are full-term boarders. The institution, which began with humble origins, now boasts a dedicated academic, administrative, and support staff of over 100 individuals.

The Nuffield School for the Deaf and Blind in Kaithady

Founded in 1956, the Nuffield School for the Deaf and Blind is situated in the Jaffna District and was established to address the educational needs of the differently-abled children in the North. The school commenced its journey with just 18 students and 4 staff members. Over the years, it has grown significantly and currently caters to 130 students with a staff team of 57 members. The establishment of this school has provided an essential educational opportunity to the children of the North, fostering a sense of inclusivity and empowerment.

The Ceylon School for the Deaf & Blind is recognized as an approved charity, and it stands firm in its commitment to providing education, support, and extracurricular activities free of charge to all students across the three schools. Regardless of academic or hostel requirements, the schools do not levy any fees. This principle embodies the organization's dedication to creating equal opportunities and breaking down barriers for the visually and hearing impaired students.

The Ceylon School for the Deaf & Blind's journey is a testament to the power of education, compassion, and community. From its humble beginnings to its current impactful presence, the three schools under its purview continue to shape the lives of countless visually and hearing impaired children. Through free education, vocational training, and unwavering dedication, these institutions stand as beacons of empowerment, fostering a more inclusive and supportive society.

Schools Statistics

The year 2022 emerged as a beacon of hope and progress, representing a marked improvement from the challenges posed by the previous two years. Despite the lingering effects of the pandemic, the schools persevered and achieved a remarkable sense of normalcy, allowing students to thrive and forge ahead in their educational journey.

The past few years presented unprecedented challenges, but the determination of the schools' administration, staff, and students enabled them to overcome hurdles and create a stable learning environment. The Post-Covid period witnessed a collective effort to transition back to familiar routines and ensure the continuation of education and vocational training.

The traditional structure of the academic year underwent adaptations, with the three terms now diverging from their former pattern. Despite these changes, the schools embraced flexibility and innovation, allowing students to adapt to the revised schedules and engage wholeheartedly in their studies.

Examinations, a cornerstone of academic evaluation, experienced a shift in their timing due to the evolving circumstances. However, the students and educators at the three schools, displayed remarkable adaptability, showcasing their ability to excel even in the face of unpredictability.

Championing Education and Vocational Training amidst the challenges, the schools maintained their focus on education and vocational training, ensuring that students continued to acquire essential skills and knowledge. The commitment of the staff to nurture the talents and abilities of visually and audibly impaired children remained unwavering.

While the three terms of the school year may have taken on a new structure, the schools' dedication to their mission remained steadfast. By conquering one hurdle after another, they paved the way for students to progress confidently towards their goals, equipped with the tools they need to succeed. The year 2022 symbolizes a triumph of resilience and adaptability.

The schools receives a Government grant that primarily covers the salaries of the teaching staff and generous donations from compassionate individuals and organizations. This combination ensures that the school can sustain its vital operations, providing holistic care to its students. While the Government grant extends support to the teaching staff, the non-academic staff members such as Cooks, Hostel Matrons and Masters, Caregivers, Drivers, Gardeners, Sanitary laborers, and Office Staff are equally indispensable to the schools' smooth operation. These dedicated individuals play a pivotal role in creating a nurturing environment for the students. However, their salaries are not covered by the Government Grant, making donations a lifeline for these essential roles.

To fill the financial gap the Board of Trustees, driven by a deep commitment to the students' welfare, rely on generous donations from compassionate hearts. These donations serve as the bedrock for compensating non-academic staff members, ensuring their dedication is duly acknowledged and appreciated.

The School for the Deaf and the Nuffield School for the Deaf & Blind place special emphasis on Vocational Training. These schools recognize that hearing impaired students may find traditional education challenging due to language barriers. By offering a wide range of vocational programs and collaborating with educational institutions and organizations, the schools are creating pathways for their students to succeed in various careers.

Sports

Inclusivity and active participation are fundamental principles at the Schools governed by the Ceylon School for the Deaf & Blind, where visually and audibly impaired children engage in a range of events alongside their peers. Despite challenges, the schools strive to provide diverse opportunities for their students to showcase their talents and compete in various activities. We prioritize an inclusive environment, enabling visually and audibly impaired children to participate in events alongside their typically developing peers. This approach nurtures a sense of belonging and encourages students to explore their interests and talents.

This year, due to prevailing circumstances, the Ratmalana schools were unable to host their anticipated Inter House Sports Meet. Nevertheless, the commitment to inclusion remained unwavering.

Both the School for the Deaf and the School for the Blind offer opportunities for students to engage in Swimming and Cricket. These activities not only promote physical well-being but also foster teamwork, discipline, and personal growth.

Students from the School for the Deaf and the School for the Blind showcased exceptional talent at the Athletics Meet for Differently Abled Children organized by the Divisional Secretariat in Ratmalana. Students from the Nuffield School actively participated in the DisAbility Sports Meet held in Jaffna. Their involvement not only showcased their determination but also strengthened the spirit of unity within the differently abled community.

The Deaf Alumni of the Nuffield School organized their Annual General Meeting (AGM) and a Sports Meet on the school grounds. This initiative encourages continued engagement with the school and fosters a sense of belonging among past students.

This event was thoughtfully organized by the differently abled branch of the Sri Lanka Girl Guides Association. The competition took place at the Hotel School Colombo. Girl Guides showcased their creativity and teamwork in the kitchen, competing with fervor and enthusiasm.

The Scouting program has been reinvigorated under the capable leadership of Scout Master

Mr. Chrisan Pieris. Weekly meetings are now being held, providing students with an opportunity to engage in character-building activities, teamwork exercises, and skill development. Scouting fosters personal growth and instills values that contribute to the development of responsible and capable individuals.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Responsibilities of the Board of Trustees and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

The Board of Trustees is responsible for the preparation of financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with SLFRS for SMEs, and for such internal control as Board of Trustees determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Trustees is responsible for assessing the Board's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Trustees either intends to liquidate the Board or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Board's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SLAuSs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A further description of the auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located Sri Lanka Accounting and Auditing Standard website at: <http://slaasc.com/auditing/auditorsresponsibility.php>. This description forms part of our auditor's report.
